FINDINGS, CONCLUSIONS, AND RECOMMENDATIONS

INADEQUATE INTERNAL CONTROLS RELATED TO REVIEW OF INVESTMENTS

The Office of the Treasurer (Office) had inadequate controls over the reconciliation of investment balances between the Office's accounting records and bank records.

The Office did not have adequate controls in place to ensure the Office's internal accounting records were reconciled to the bank's investment inventory reports

The Illinois Funds' investments were maintained at a bank, a third-party service provider and program manager, which provided investment inventory reports to the Office. While the Office relied on these reports to present investment holdings in its financial statements, it did not have adequate internal controls in place to ensure the Office's internal accounting records were accurately and consistently reconciled to the investment inventory reports provided by the bank. A formal preparer and reviewer was not documented and reconciling items were not included on the inventory spreadsheet. (Finding 1, page 75)

We recommended the Office improve controls over the review of investments by completing a reconciliation between the Office's accounting records and the bank records that includes a formal sign-off of preparer and reviewer on a monthly basis.

The Office accepted the audit recommendation. The Office stated it has implemented a new reconciliation procedure over these funds.

Office accepted
